

Important notice to meeting room attendees

Subject to compliance with applicable rules and procedures, organizations, groups and individuals may use rooms at the Hingham Public Library for their meetings. However, neither the Library nor the Town of Hingham reviews or verifies any advice or information that may be provided at any such meeting, nor does the Library or the Town examine or approve any product or service that may be described, recommended or offered at such a meeting.

Before relying on information or advice provided or made available to you by a meeting room presenter, you should carefully verify its accuracy, currency, completeness, safety and relevance for your purposes. You are also encouraged to seek and obtain independent professional advice before you agree to acquire any goods or services that may have been described, recommended or offered to you.
